

straight ahead to the gorgeous reception room which forms the ante-chamber to the more private apartments placed at the disposal of the royal visitor and her suite. She did not wait for Mayor Harrison to show her the way. She has all the dash and spirit and vivacity of an American woman abroad. After a few formal remarks the mayor left the infant to the conclusion of her apartments. She felt so fatigued in spite of the luxury surrounding her long ride from New York, that she retired to her bed chamber and spent the rest of the afternoon in refreshing sleep. Her suite were allowed to be sent in to her and few called to pay their respects until evening. The members of the Spanish world's fair commission, the Spanish consulate and a few of the high official officials called during the evening. The duke and duchess of Veragua did not accompany the infant to the princess' reception room is unfortunately not provided with seating or sliding doors, but two stalwart police officers, one on each side of the entrance, at each door to preserve the privacy of the apartments. They will be relieved at night.

ECONOMY CONTEMPLATED

Davis to be Made Director-General in Fact With Burnham Assistant.

CHICAGO, June 6.—A much needed simplification of administrative detail in the affairs of the World's Columbian exposition is, it reports to be, about to be effected. Ten days ago Director General Davis and Director of Works Burnham sent a joint letter to the local directory urging that full authority in every department be vested in the director-general and that he be permitted to choose an assistant to be known solely by him. A meeting of the directory was held at the Chicago club last night at which this letter was considered. After much discussion it was agreed that a resolution should be passed at a tomorrow's meeting of the board, which will make Colonel Davis the director-general de facto. It was thought proper in furtherance of this plan to make Director of Works Burnham Mr. Davis' assistant, thus combining the two great departments of the fair, namely, administration and construction. The director-general will in future receive his orders from the council of administration instead of from the national commission, the local directory and the board of control. Under the new order of things much conflict will be avoided, as the council of administration represents both the United States government and the physical forces of the fair. The council of administration is composed of H. N. Higginbotham, president of the exposition company, who is the chairman; George V. Massey, national commissioner from Delaware; Charles H. Schwab of the local director, and J. W. St. Clair, national commissioner from West Virginia. The powers of the national commission which have been in almost perpetual conflict with the local body are thus clearly defined and acknowledged, and it is placed upon an equal footing with the active governing forces of the fair. The national commission may, however, take exception to this radical change, made without its sanction, and raise a little trouble. But as they do not again convene until July 1, the new regime will have had time to show its capability, and as it is highly probable that less defects will be visible than under the conditions existing heretofore, the commission may give passive acquiescence by not bringing the matter up. The other side of this latest move is in the interests of economy. By bringing Mr. Burnham over into the administrative department it is safe to predict the early liquidation of the department of construction which will result in a great curtailment of expenses. It is estimated the fair about $30,000 daily to keep open. However, the cost of operation will be reduced to about $20,000 daily before July 1.

Troops at the Grounds.

CHICAGO, June 6.—Uncle Sam is gradually increasing his armed forces at the fair. One regiment has been on guard duty at the Convention of La Salle ever since the Columbus pictures and relief were placed there, and another company has been performing a similar service at the government building. Two companies of cavalry from Fort Snelling are expected to arrive tomorrow morning and will go into camp on the grassy plot between the government building and the lake. Other companies are expected to arrive from time to time, but the original plan of having the three departments of the army represented has been given up owing to a lack of space.

Music and Lights.

CHICAGO, June 6.—The world's fair grounds and buildings were illuminated tonight and nearly all exhibits were played until 10 o'clock. The attendance was large the great bulk of the people, searching for a new attraction, went to the administration building to hear the music. The three bands, Sousa's of Chicago and the Cincinnati, furnished the music from the different stands during the evening. The program included Sousa's second march, the overture to Lortzing's "Carmen" and the selection from "The Gypsy Baron" and "Tannhauser," Strauss' "Willow Song."

Our Cadets Parade.

CHICAGO, June 6.—The cadets from the Michigan military academy at Orchard Lake gave a dress parade and review in front of the administration building this evening. The cadets have their own band and appeared in full dress. The boys went through their evolutions with great precision and were highly cheered by the spectators. The company is settled in camp up at the west end of the grounds and give exhibition drills there on alternate days.

SCORED THE LEGISLATURE

Judge Cahill Roasts the Law Makers Before the Lawyers.

LANSING, Mich., June 6.—The State Bar association convened shortly after 2 o'clock. President Cahill of Lansing delivered his annual address, in which, as required by the constitution, he reviewed the legislation of congress and the state legislature during the past year. He said that if he were to confine his attention to really noteworthy legislation his address might as well be disposed with. Among other things he referred to the repeal of the Miner law, a law which was supported not even by a good sized majority. He expressed some regret that the legislature increased the salaries of supreme justices instead of increasing the number of justices as the association desired. Better results might have been attained if the association had a larger membership and stricter discipline. He urged that steps be taken to increase the membership.

BUYS MANY POODS.

A Liban Firm Makes a Purchase From German Exporters.

CHICAGO, June 6.—A Liban milling firm has ordered 300,000 pounds of wheat from German exporters at Koenigsburg, in consequence of the local transportation facilities with the southern wheat districts. The firm calculates that it can save 1 1/2 cents per bushel by buying German wheat for consumption in the Baltic provinces. This step may stimulate the Russian market of U. S. wheat into building the long asked light railway communication with the wheat districts, which would serve the double purpose of assisting trade and preventing famine in any particular district.

GRAND LEPAGE, Mich., June 6.—The suicide of Jacob Fees of this place, who jumped into the lake while on his way from Grand Haven to Chicago, was caused by domestic troubles. Contrary to his own wishes he was finally persuaded to sell the place for sale. He found no purchaser. A little over a year ago the house on the farm was burned. Later on Mrs. Fees sued him for her individual money in the farm, which was $2,700. In a letter he left behind he blames his wife for his suicide.

But Again at Work—Orders Are Filled Promptly.

The Price Baking Powder company of Chicago, which is known throughout the country for the superior excellence of its Baking Powder, met with a serious loss on the morning of May 18, in the nearly total destruction by fire of its factory and offices. No sooner had the flames been subdued than the work of restoration commenced, and the company was enabled by energetic management to resume manufacturing within a very few days after the fire, thereby causing its customers but a trifling delay in the filling of their orders. Had the company not been so prepared the delay would have been very serious since it would have required months of time to get new machinery.

"MAKE HAY WHILE THE SUN SHINES."

Summer is the Best Time to Cure Chronic Diseases Because Then Nature is Warm, Loving and Generous and Helps Build Up Her Works.

The many years experience of Drs. Copeland and Graham in the treatment of Chronic Diseases has taught them that the best time to treat these diseases is during the warm season, when nature helps build up its work. A majority of patients will only put themselves under treatment at the season of the year when they are suffering actual pain and distress, namely, the winter season, at which time it is almost impossible to do anything for them on account of the severe changeable weather; then as soon as warm weather comes and the immediate distressing symptoms are lessened, they flatter themselves they do not need further treatment and cease, to wait until winter comes again, to go through the same round of aches and pains and chronic coughs, growing worse and more debilitated and more incurable each winter.

Do not trifle with health. Nature is warm and loving and generous in summer. The sick feel almost well, so gentle is the season to the ailing. The victim of a chronic disease feels an abatement of the sharpness of his suffering. Nature does much for us, but she does not do it all. It is not wise to assume that when the beautiful season works an improvement in the system complete health will be the result. This is Nature's offer to help, and you should at once take advantage of it.

Now is the time. Those who suffer from catarrh should take advantage of all the influences that operate now in favor of a cure. They should not put off treatment until next winter's stormy days, but should prudently "mend their roof when the sun shines." Now is the time and the opportunity is just what is desired for the worst cases. Do not let it go by, but take treatment at once, and have done for you in the next few months what might not be possible the next summer.

REMEMBER IT COSTS YOU NOTHING FOR CONSULTATION AND EXAMINATION.
